

OFFICIAL CANVASS TO DECIDE SENATORSHIP

EXACT RESULT OF TUESDAY'S PRIMARY WILL NOT BE KNOWN UNTIL TOMORROW.

THE STATE AT LARGE

Second Choice Will Play Important Part in General Nomination of Candidates.

It will not be until the official canvass of the second choice votes of Rock and Walworth counties on the state senatorship question, are counted that the question of who is the nominee will be decided. According to the newspaper canvass of the returns on the straight vote, Mr. Cunningham carried Rock county by a six to four plurality over Whitte. In Walworth county, a similar unofficial canvass completed yesterday gives Mr. Cunningham that county by six to four. This means the second choice votes, those received from men voting for Gettle, who was the third man in the race, for either Cunningham or Whitte may either turn the nomination over to Whitte or increase Cunningham's lead.

This official canvass of the returns will be made in both counties on Friday and owing to the complex conditions of the returns, may be an all-day job before this question is settled definitely. The remainder of the vote for county officers does not show any change today and this will also go to the second choice votes for final decision. As far as can be learned there was not a great deal of second choice voting so the differences cannot be much greater than reported yesterday.

Grand Rapids, Wis., Sept. 5.—George Hambrecht, local candidate for state senator in this district, Monk, carried Clark county by over 800 while Wood county favored Hambrecht by only about 375.

All Inmates of the Michigan State Prison, Except Mutinous Ones Put to Work.

Jackson, Mich., Sept. 5.—All of the inmates of the Michigan state prison, with the exception of those alleged to have taken prominent part in Tuesday's revolt were put to work today. Previous to resuming operations, the wreckage due to the outbreak was cleaned up and all that remains as evidence of the devastation wrought are thousands of shattered window panes. National Guard troops still were circled about the prison today and indications are that the soldiers probably will remain there all week.

New Orleans, Sept. 4.—Suffering from a fractured skull, the bandit who single-handedly robbed the New York Limited train on the Louisville and Nashville railway, 12 miles east of New Orleans last night, later to be felled by the locomotive driver, was brought to New Orleans this morning and placed in the charity hospital. The bandit said his name was Howard E. Edwards, and his family lived in Jupiter, Fla. He gave the police information which is expected to lead to the early capture of three other members of a gang that is believed to have been responsible for a series of sensational train robberies in this section.

After Edwards had completed a round of the coaches he went forward to the engine. Caught off his guard for an instant he was hit by Engineer Blair who wielded a heavy oil can. The bandit dropped unconscious.

He fell to the pavement, probably fatally wounded. His companion, Miss Nellie Burnett, escaped injury. Park policemen caught the bandits after a chase during which several shots were fired.

PUT RIVAL TICKET UP TO CANDIDATES

Taft Leaders in State Consider Possibility of Third Party Ticket This Fall.

Milwaukee, Sept. 5.—Whether a republican state ticket will be put into the field in opposition to the ticket nominated Tuesday, depends upon the platform convention. Emanuel L. Phillips said yesterday that, in his opinion, if the national ticket and platform were not endorsed, a candidate who would support the national ticket and platform should be made up.

"If the platform convention does not endorse the national ticket and platform those who control it cannot call themselves Republicans," said Mr. Phillips. "This being the case, there will be no republican ticket in Wisconsin, as I look at it, and I will endeavor to have one put in the field. I will do nothing before the convention, so as to give the candidates a chance to show where they stand."

Must Run Independently. "If another ticket is decided on it will, of course, have to run independently. Petitions will be circulated and there will be no difficulty in getting the required number of signatures. Only candidates for the state administrative offices will be put in the field."

Mr. Phillips is optimistic as to President Taft's chances for carrying Wisconsin. "I think that the president's chances are getting better every day," he said. "A while ago there was a great deal of Wilson talk, but the pendulum seems to be swinging the other way. I do not think that Roosevelt will cut much figure in the Wisconsin election."

The results of the Vermont and California elections have not abated Mr. Phillips' confidence in the reelection of President Taft.

"It was to be expected that the Roosevelt candidates would be successful in California, which seems to have abandoned itself to political intoxication, and the falling off in the republican vote in Vermont is not heavy enough to be seriously alarming," said he. "Before election day arrives there will be enough of a revision from the frenzy for reform to bring about republican success. The nomination of an opponent to the income law of Wisconsin by the Democrats yesterday is a straw which indicates how the political wind is blowing."

EXPECTS SUPPORT FROM FARMERS

"The bulk of the vote of the country is the farmer vote, and the farmer must see that if the craze for regulation is maintained it must eventually touch him. What does he care about Schedule K? He goes about in overalls most of the time, and the cost of his clothes is not much different when the wool tariff is high from what it is when the tariff is low."

"But if the price of manufactured goods is regulated, the next thing will be regulation of the price of farm products. And the farmer is getting 10 cents a pound for beef on the hoof and other prices in proportion, higher than any he has received since 1896. I think that by the time Nov. 5 rolls around he will be convinced that his interests lie with the republican party."

MAN WAS FATALLY INJURED WHEN BRANCH FELL ON HIM

Neenah, Sept. 4.—Nels Peterson was perhaps fatally injured internally last evening when a large tree branch fell on him, while he was assisting another man to cut it away.

COLONEL ROOSEVELT INVADES MINNESOTA AND ATTENDS FAIR

Bull Moose Situation Will Be Closely Reviewed During Stay in St. Paul—New York Progressives' Convention.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 5.—The "Bull Moose" have invaded St. Paul today in great numbers. The occasion is the arrival of Colonel Roosevelt this morning, who is to deliver an address at the Minnesota state fair today. The former president and his party arrived in two private coaches attached to the C. R. I. & P. train at 7:20, coming through from Des Moines where Colonel Roosevelt addressed the progressive state convention yesterday.

Review Situation. A reception committee of nearly two hundred greeted the colonel when he reached the union station and he was escorted to a local hotel where breakfast was served. A platoon of police and an escort of Spanish War Veterans headed a long procession and accompanied the reception committee from the railway station to the hotel.

Following breakfast an informal reception was held at the hotel after which Colonel Roosevelt had a lengthy conference with the progressive state central committee. The situation in Minnesota was thoroughly gone over. Several hundred leaders of the new party and friends of Roosevelt arrived in St. Paul last night and this morning every county in the state is represented, besides many coming from Wisconsin and even South Dakota.

New York Convention. Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 5.—The opening session of the state progressive convention found the framework of the party organization already constructed and delegates ready for consideration of the state ticket. None of the candidates for head of the state ticket are making an actual canvass, and the 1,500 delegates are confronted with a problem, which seems likely to lead to a spirited contest on the convention floor.

Comptroller William Prendergast of New York told his friends here this morning he would do nothing to secure the nomination. If it was tendered him, he would accept it, but he thought best that the candidates should make their choice without any influences of any sort. State Chairman Hotchkiss declared that he was not to be considered as a candidate, but many of the delegates worked insistently for him.

PREPARE FOR TRIAL OF OFFICER BECKER

Judge Gaff Expected to Grant Order Summoning 250 Talesmen—Other Developments.

New York, Sept. 5.—Justice Gaff was expected today to grant a motion for the summoning of two hundred and fifty talesmen to participate in the trial of Police Lieutenant Becker which is set for Sept. 12th. One hundred is the usual number summoned, but because of the widespread publicity of the Rosenthal case, great difficulty in obtaining a jury is predicted, and for this reason the district attorney wants an extra large panel.

Mr. Whitman is in town after his conference of yesterday with Governor Dix and during the day will probably have a long talk with Thos. D. Tacher, counsel for Cornelius C. Hayes, the deposed police inspector. It is said that the chief reason for Hayes going to Mr. Whitman was to forestall any action against him by the grand jury pending his trial on the charge of making a false statement relative to Commissioner Waldo's attitude toward disreputable resorts.

The former inspector is quoted today as having said to the district attorney: "Let me alone until I am through with my police troubles. It is certain that I will be broke. If I am put on the stand though I will tell a story that will cause Waldo to resign his job instantly. Yes, and it will go further and cause a sensation in the mayor's office. I want to be free from any handicap that the grand jury might put on me."

Commissioner Waldo said that he had nothing to fear from Hayes and added that the former police inspector would have ample opportunity to talk all he wanted at his trial which will be held at police headquarters tomorrow.

Rhineland Waldo, New York's commissioner of police, incensed by statements attributed to Cornelius C. Hayes, deposed inspector, that Hayes would air departmental scandal and cause Waldo to resign, issued a dramatic order today commanding Hayes to report at once at headquarters and state in writing whether he did or did not threaten the commissioner.

INCREASE AMERICAN FORCES AT OJINAGA

Troops Ordered From Fort Clark to Big Bend Section on Account of Appearance of Rebels.

Washington, Sept. 5.—The appearance of a large number of Mexican rebels at Ojinaga has made it necessary to increase the American patrol force in the Big Bend section and troops are being sent from Fort Clark. 700 rebels are encamped ten miles below Quitman and the rebel general Salazar with 1,000 men is in Capitan mountain west of Sabinal station on the Mexican Northwestern railway. Neither side is moving to attack and the border troubles are as bad as formerly.

PLEAD SELF-DEFENSE TO MURDER CHARGES

Wife and Employee Arraigned for Murder of Paving Contractor in East Liverpool, Ohio.

East Liverpool, Ohio, Sept. 5.—That Richard Burrows, paving contractor, whose body was found hidden in a barn near here, Tuesday morning, was slain in his home Monday evening by John Coburne, an employee, to protect Mrs. Burrows, was the defense of Coburne and Mrs. Burrows.

They were arrested last night near Williamsport, Ohio, and will be arraigned today to plead to a charge of first degree murder. A report that Mrs. Burrows had confessed to the murder of her husband is untrue.

According to Ben L. Bennett, who has been retained as attorney for the defense, Coburne, who boarded with the Burrows family, went there Monday evening to find Burrows and his wife quarreling. Burrows, it is said, threw his wife on the floor and was choking her when Coburne, fearing Mrs. Burrows would be killed, threw a lantern at Burrows.

Coburne's story is that the iron struck Burrows on the head and stunned him, but that Burrows recovered and drew his revolver. Coburne grabbed his own revolver and fired several shots at Burrows killing him. The body was then hidden.

TRADES UNIONS OPPOSED TO COMPULSORY ARBITRATIONS

Newport, Eng., Sept. 5.—Compulsory arbitration of trade disputes is strongly opposed by British trade unionists who today at the trades union congress cast an overwhelming vote against the adoption of the principle. Nearly two million members of trades union are represented by the 500 delegates attending the congress which began its session here, Sept. 2.

GREEN BAY BUILDINGS STRUCK DURING ELECTRICAL STORM

Green Bay, Sept. 5.—During an electrical storm early this morning lightning struck the flag staff on Turners' Hall, carrying splinters of it two blocks away. The building was damaged to a small extent. Lightning also entered a west side residence over the telephone wires and caused some damage by setting fire to the furniture. This is the fourth electrical storm in six days and heavy rains have accompanied them. The telephone system is impaired today as a result.

PARTIALLY TO MUTINEERS IS CHARGE AGAINST JUDGE

St. Petersburg, Russia, Sept. 5.—The mutiny in the Black sea squadron in the Russian fleet has led to arrest of the naval judge advocate at Sebastopol by to secret police who accuse him of showing partiality toward the mutineers. Suspicion has existed for a long time in the navy circles that the trouble among the blue jackets has been fomented by police spies who have mingled among the sailors and instigated them to create disturbances.

TO DRAW PLATFORMS IN MADISON SEPT. 17

Republicans And Democrats Required to Meet on the Same Date.

The platform conventions of both the Democratic and Republican parties, at which the platforms upon which the nominees of the two tickets will seek election in November are to be drafted will be held in Madison on Sept. 17. The date and place of holding the conventions are fixed by law, the statute calling for a meeting of all nominees at Madison on the third Tuesday of the same month in which the primary election is held.

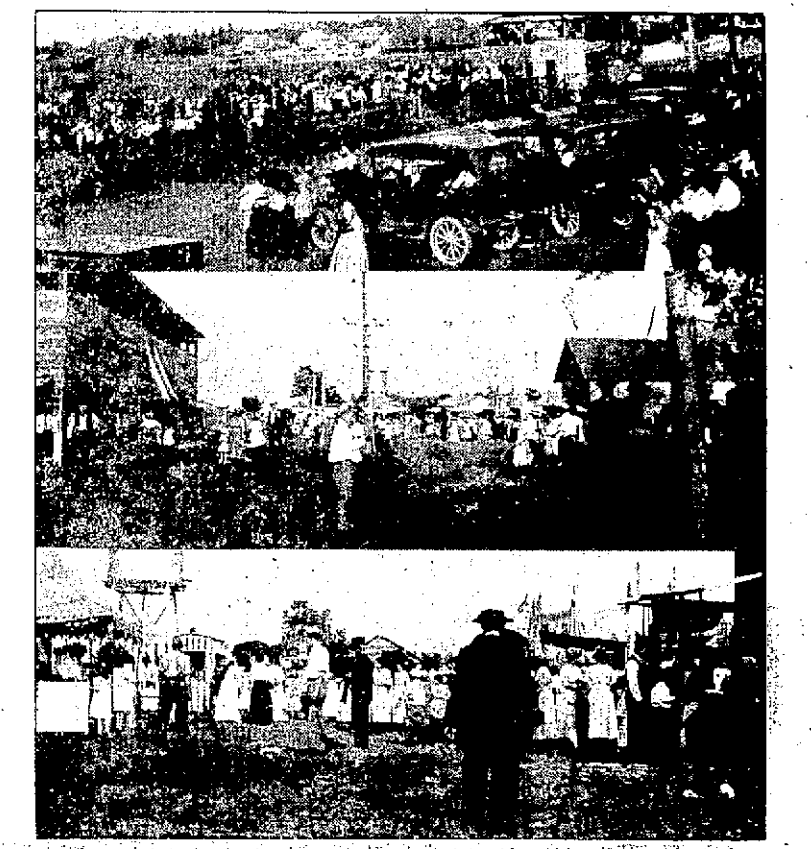

Income Tax Law Problem. Interest will center chiefly about the drafting of the Democratic platform. In view of the nomination of Judge J. C. Karel or governor and Harry W. Bolens for lieutenant-governor, both ardent critics of the present income tax law, it is probable that the income tax plank adopted at the Democratic state convention will be withdrawn and a substitute plank.

SCENES AT THE EVANSVILLE FAIR ON TUESDAY LAST.

WILL USE PART OF DARROW EVIDENCE

Evidence in Bribery Trial Will Probably Be Used in Indianapolis "Dynamiting Cases."

Los Angeles, Sept. 5.—Some of the evidence in the trial of Clarence S. Darrow for jury bribing which resulted in Darrow's acquittal, may be used in the government's dynamite conspiracy cases in Indianapolis.

This became known today through instructions from Attorney General Wickersham to James Gaylor, special service agent, to have prepared certain extracts from the record of the Darrow trial. It is believed here the government particularly desires transcript of the testimony of Anton Johannsen, San Francisco labor leader, who referred on the stand to several of the Indianapolis defendants.

attendance in the history of the association.

The race program this afternoon was a good one with the following horses entered: 2:25 trot, 2:30 pacers eligible: Herbert Oh So, owned by N. Kelly of Albion; Florn by H. Wentworth, Edgerton; Agnes K., owned by C. T. Smith, Beloit; Baby Doc, owned by Holloway, Baraboo; Tiny Tim, C. T. Smith, Beloit; Hayday, owned by G. Thurman, Evansville; Bill Jordan, Thos. Cunningham, Evansville; On Line, Crawford, Evansville; and Prince Hessel, also owned at Evansville. The large attendance of local horses in the events drew an unusually large crowd to the race track.

The flights of the aeroplane this afternoon promised to be sensational. Aviator Mitchell intended to take a passenger up with him on one of the flights and would do a number of fancy glides and dips.

According to the statement of persons having concessions on the grounds they have done more business in the past two days than in the entire week in previous years.

The racing program yesterday offered but one special race in which there were four entries, four of which were Janesville horses: Six Cylinder Pen, owned by J. M. Huginin; The Rex, owned by Ray Lloyd, and Charley Howe, owned by Chas. Schaller. Six Cylinder Pen won three heats and the race, with Roxie Leland, owned at Monroe, taking second place. The results follow:

Six Cylinder Pen	1	1	1
Roxie Leland	2	2	2
Charley Howe	4	3	3
The Rex	3	4	4

Time: 2:19 1-4; 2:18 1-2, and 2:20. The feature of entertainment program is the Wright aeroplane which is driven by Aviator Mitchell in two flights each afternoon, at two and five o'clock. The big machine ascends in the air as graceful as a bird and touches the ground as lightly as a feather on descending.

There was a good attendance at the fair yesterday afternoon in spite of the heat which was very oppressive. An aged man, John Devereaux, was overcome and had to be carried from the grounds. Others suffered but no other prostrations were reported.

ALL KINDS OF ELECTRICAL WORK

A world's record for yearling trotters was hung up at the recent Ohio state fair. Edna the Great, owned and driven by Dr. W. A. Barber, of Springfield, established the mark, negotiating the mile in 2:22 1-4. A pacemaker was used.

The city council of Havana, Cuba, has bought a $200 medal for Marsans of the Cincinnati Reds. A wag suggests that it's worth it, to put forth real efforts for the Reds.

Pittsburgh fans are displeased because Manager Clarke hasn't been getting on the coaching line much of late. With the fighting chance for the pennant they attribute the loss of several recent games to bad coaching of base runners. The Pirates fans would like to see Clarke on the lines every game, no matter whether there's much of a chance for the pennant or not.

Olle Nicholson, outfielder with Frankfort Blue Grass league club, set a new world's record the other day by stealing his 108th base in 115 games played this season.

Roland Barrows, late of Jersey City, who has been one of the few worth while outfielders in the International league this season, has joined the Chicago White Sox. His batting record for the season is .340 and his fielding is just as good.

Another promising new man who has lately hooked up with the White Sox is Bill Douglas, who gained the reputation this season of being the best pitcher in the Western league. He is a right-hander.

Cai Robinson, manager of Joe Phillips, has matched Joe to box Young Dyson fifteen rounds at Providence, September 10. Dyson recently returned from England where he won three fights by knockouts. He is now in the lightweight class.

Southern League clubs have decided upon their managers for next season. Charley Frank, Mike Finn, Bill Bernhard, Bill Schwartz, Johnny Dobbs and Carleton Molesworth will again be found at the helm at New Orleans, Mobile, Memphis, Nashville, Montgomery and Birmingham, while Kid Elberfeld goes to Chattanooga to succeed Billy Smith, who has accepted the management at Atlanta, where he formerly held forth.

Fandom will watch with interest the work of two players who recently got into big company. One of them is Paddy Green, bought for $8,000 by the New York Nationals from a minor league; the other is McGhee, recently of Vicksburg, bought by the Detroit Tigers for $750. Critics say the two players are about on a par. You can't always tell what sort of work a man will do by the price that is paid for him. Six years ago Detroit got Ty Cobb for $750.

CHICAGO SOX WIN GAME WITH MONROE

Exhibition Contest Results in Victory For Big Leaguers By Score Of 3 To 1.

Monroe, Wis., Sept. 5.—A team of Chicago White Sox defeated the Monroe pirates here yesterday by the score of 3 to 1. The game was a feature of the entertainment offered at the Green county fair in progress here and drew a large crowd. "Bill" Lange for the Sox struck out seven men in six innings, and Peters finished the game, fanning two men. Sullivan clouted a three bagger in the sixth inning which scored Mayer and Dowling and a single by Lange sent Sullivan across the plate. The Sox did not have an easy time with the chessmakers by any means and Luck did some brilliant work on the slab for Monroe.

The score: 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 R. H. E. Chicago 0 0 0 0 3 0 0 0 3 6 2 Monroe 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 1 5 0 Batteries—Lange Peters and Sullivan; Luck and Anderson.

At The Theatre

"THE DIVORCE QUESTION."

"The Divorce Question," the human interest play by Wm. Anthony McGuire, under the direction of Rowland and Clifford, will be seen at the Myers theatre on Wednesday, Sept. 11. The solution of our present day marital troubles is not in making divorce easy or obtainable, but in making marriage more difficult.

The marriage ties are not sufficiently binding, with the existence of the present day divorce laws and the union frequently becomes more of a moral tie than a legal one, dependent more on the honor of the parties concerned.

When, however, that quality is lacking and children are the result of the union, a deplorable condition is manifest; such conditions confront you in William Anthony McGuire's powerful play, "The Divorce Question."

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Manners, long married, the parents of two children—a boy and a girl—divorce. The children are placed in the care of poor, likewise neglectful relatives.

The mother shortly after remarries—the father likewise. They go abroad on their respective wedding tours, and latterly children result—the issue of the second marriage.

The boy and girl, longing for the paternal love unjustly denied them, unable to endure the privation and neglect, run away from their caretakers. The parents, true, know nothing of this as communication has long since ceased. The boy and girl come to the city. The girl, after a severe struggle finds herself a member of the underworld. The boy, despondent, thrown among evil associates, contracts the drug habit, his sister had disappeared and in his lucid moments he keeps up an unrelenting search, finds her in a dive, rescues the girl, and in the melee a member of the gang is killed by a bullet from the boy's pistol. The frenzied mob attack them. They escape and seek refuge in the sacristy of the church of Father Jerome Priest and a man—then the play begins.

THE ROAD TO SOCIALISM.

"Here is a fact for the sober-minded business man to ponder. The income tax constitutes the shortest road to socialism. All that is necessary to effect the socialist's dream of a co-operative commonwealth is just to raise the tax high enough. Do not imagine that the present rate marks the limit. If the people approve the tax by their vote it will go higher and higher. If the state can take five hundred dollars out of a ten thousand dollar income on the mere ground that the income is large enough to stand it, what rule is there to prevent it from taking one thousand or two thousand or five thousand?"

"Remember that large incomes are taxed under this law, not because they represent undue profits or money invested or effort put forth, but merely because they are large."

"The state says by its law that the man who has a large income, regardless of how it comes or what he proposes to do with it, is a public enemy. The graduation feature of the income tax is an assertion that the public has a right to confiscate as much of the property of the wealthy as it wants."

"Suppose the people get used to this idea. It is but a step from the confiscation of the income to the confiscation of the sources of the income."

"But," objects the defender of the system, "You can always trust the innate honesty of the people." You can trust the people if they fully understand; but history is full of instances where crimes have been sanctioned by popular approval, because the people had been blinded."

"If the population of this state could be so blinded that they could see nothing dishonest or immoral in the present income tax it would certainly be unsafe to trust their inner consciousness as a guarantee against further assaults on property."

"Before any man gives his support to this measure as it now exists he should decide for himself whether he is willing to have the rate of taxation indefinitely increased; for as sure as the sun shines that is what will take place if a vote of popular approval can be secured."

The Wausau Record-Herald thus discusses a feature of the income tax law, that is frequently overlooked. The trend of the times is toward socialism and the legal distribution of property is simply another term for confiscation. Any law which permits the state to publish broadcast the privacy of business interests, is vicious in the extreme. A case in a northern city occurred the other day where a landlord doubled the rent on a tenant, who was a small manufacturer, because he thought he was making too much money, and ought to divide.

The same principle applies to the platform of the new progressive party, when it attempts to fix the compensation of labor. Socialism is in the air, and some of the men who now aspire to leadership, both in the state and nation, are so intoxicated by the doctrine, as to be dangerous in the extreme.

GREATER THAN THE MAN.

The republican party has always been greater than any man connected with it, as it is today. Presidents from its ranks have been assassinated and many of its great leaders have passed on, but the party has survived the shock, and facing the front has moved steadily forward.

This fact Colonel Roosevelt failed to recognize or appreciate, and while indebted to the old party for all the honors possible to bestow, he is now engaged in a campaign of destruction, and all because of personal ambition inspired by the notion that he is greater than the party, and more competent than the old organization which he deserted.

The primary campaign, which he conducted with so much vigor, was directed against Taft, the man, and for a time the party was lost to view, but as time advances the fact is slowly dawning upon the people that the republican party was a mighty factor in the nation, long before the colonel appeared on the surface, and the belief is growing that it will continue to exist long after he is forgotten.

President Taft is unfortunate in lacking personal popularity, and he may have gained nothing in this respect, since the campaign opened. It is possible that had the election been held within a month from the date of the Chicago convention, that the irrepressible colonel might have carried the country by storm, but not so today.

The people have had time to think, and a little observation has caused many of them to believe that the big "I" represents about all there is of the "Bull Moose" movement masquerading under the stolen title of the "progressive party."

Mr. Bryan was inspired with a similar ambition, a few years ago, and all that he accomplished was to wreck the democratic party, but it survived the shock and after a dozen years, has again come into its own.

Mr. Roosevelt may defeat the republican party this year, but he can not destroy it. The brand of socialism which he advocates is not the kind of material for the foundation of a party, and the personal ambition, which inspires him, will not long influence the people.

The party of Lincoln, Garfield and McKinley has a record of which any man may be proud. It carried the nation through the dark days of civil strife and preserved the Union. It saved the honor of the nation when bankruptcy threatened, and has so guided the great ship of state that progress and prosperity have gone forward, hand in hand, to bless the people.

And yet the great "I" who swings like a planet on the horizon today, says, "I am no longer a republican, but a progressive." What he means is that he is no longer satisfied to remain in the ranks, a loyal supporter of the party that made him, but must have a party of his own, to pay him perpetual homage. The scheme is too gauzy for serious consideration, and this the colonel will discover, as the game progresses.

It seldom happens that all parties are pleased with the results of an election, and yet this seems to be the case in Vermont. The republicans are content because they have the legislature and will elect the next governor. The progressives are jubilant because they secured a larger vote than they expected, and the democrats are satisfied because they held their own. Politics in Vermont is a pastime.

The Roosevelt progressives will take advantage of state fair week to hold a convention in Milwaukee. September 11 is the date and Dreamland Hall the place. Senator La Follette has planned to be in the city, at the time, much to the discomfort of the management. If the party should decide to place a state ticket in the field, Colonel Hinks of Oshkosh will probably be the standard-bearer.

The mutiny and riot among the inmates of the Michigan state prison is charged to inhuman treatment on the part of officials. The reforms in the state should include the care of the criminal classes.

With three tickets in the field the state of Iowa will enjoy a red hot campaign for the next sixty days. Democracy has never been very strong in the Hawkeye state, but the party will doubtless make a good showing this year.

The postmaster at San Juan, Porto Rico, was recently removed and it is claimed, for no apparent reason except that he was a Roosevelt shouter, yet this is supposed to be a civil service administration.

It is estimated that the value of farm products this year will exceed the values of 1911 by $650,000,000. Politics don't cut much of a figure when confronted by this kind of prosperity.

BRILLIANT OUTLOOK FOR FOOTBALL TEAM

High School Eleven Will Begin Practice Next Week With Strong Men in Line-up.

Football is getting to be the talk at the high school now and all students are anxious to see the local team show themselves for their first game on the gridiron. Material is very good at present and from indications and rumors going around, several old men will be back in the molekieski when the first whistle is blown. Prof. Guy W. Curtis, who comes from Oshkosh normal school, will do the coaching, while Prof. H. H. Coplan of Michigan Agricultural college of East Lansing, Michigan, and a man with two years football experience, will help the team to get rounded out into shape.

Prospects were never quite so bright as compared with other years, and Captain Andy Connell predicts a good team and some mighty strong games, with such teams as Madison and possibly Fort Atkinson later in the season. Coach Curtis will find material for almost every position, and men with much experience. Quarterback seems to be about the only likely spot into which a new man will have to be developed.

Four valuable men have been lost by graduation, or leaving. "Red" Konst who played halfback last year, will be missed considerably, for it will be remembered that it was his open field running which gained many a yard for the local eleven. "Bo" Kelly, another valuable man and a mighty good tackler, has graduated. Sherman and Wilkinson, both star tackles on last year's eleven, will not appear in the line-up this season.

Something which has greatly brightened the prospects this year is the presence of "Schultz" Fuller, who played such a spectacular game two years ago, and who was disqualified last year. He will undoubtedly assume his old position at right tackle, and may possibly occupy the back field if needed.

Davidson, an old mainstay at left tackle, will be present in the line-up, unless another place is found where he is more valuable. "Baldy" Cannon a star center for two seasons, will act in the same capacity this year, and his opponents will remember his build and his hard knocks when he presents himself on the field for the big games.

Captain Andy Connell is back at right halfback where he tore the ends last season. The backfield remains the same and it is doubtful if any improvements could be made, for with Captain Connell in the right half-back position, and Ray Edler on the left side, and Joe Ryan as fullback, there is machinery which works to the limit.

The ends will have to work this season because of the change in the forward pass rule. Smiley and Cummings are the likely candidates. Cummings was disqualified last season, and is a good all around man. "Leather" Dalton, a crack little guard, who played all last season, is back, while the other guard position is in doubt, Mason being a likely candidate.

First practice has been called for Monday night next. Coach Curtis is looking for a large squad out, and games will be played with Jefferson, Watertown, Deloit, Madison, White-water, Stoughton, and possibly Fort Atkinson. The schedule will be announced later.

DINNER STORIES

Two Kansas City lawyers, whose names are withheld for obvious reasons, declare that they were present when the following incident occurred: One says it happened in Memphis the other in Louisville. It really doesn't matter.

Uncle Mose was a chronic thief, who usually managed to keep within the petty larceny limit. One time he misculculated, however, and was sent to trial on a charge of grand larceny. "Have you a lawyer, Mose?" asked the court.

"No, sah."

"Well, to be perfectly fair, I'll appoint a couple. Mr. Jones and Mr. Brown will act as counsel."

"What's dat?"

"Act as your lawyers—consult with them and prepare to tell me whether you are guilty or not guilty."

"Yas sah."

Mose talked to his attorneys for a few moments in husky whispers. The judge caught only the several times repeated word alibi. Then Mose arose, scratched his head, and addressed the court:

"Jedge, yoh honoh," he said, "C'ause I see only an ign'ant niggah, an' Ah don't want toh bothah yoh honoh, but Ah would suitly like toh trade, yoh honoh, one ob dese yeah laweyrs fob a witness."

TRIAL OF WAGGONER ON LARCENY CHARGE IN PROGRESS TODAY

Case Had Not Gone to Jury at Late Hour This Afternoon—Defense to Attempt to Prove Alibi.

Up to a late hour this afternoon the case of Hugh Waggoner, charged with the larceny of a gold watch and six dollars in money from Robert Denser on the evening of August 20, and receiving the watch as stolen property, had not gone to the jury. Seven witnesses in addition to the complainant had been heard; they being G. C. Olson, a jeweler, Frank Clark and Mr. Joyce, bartenders at the Sheridan hotel bar, Frank Walters, the porter at the same place, Chief of Police George Appleby and Patrolman John Brown. The witnesses for the defense had not been heard.

Attorney Pierce questioned Denser closely about the manner in which he spent his money on the evening of the seventeenth. Denser said he did not know how many drinks he had bought. He had treated every time his turn came, but there had never been more than five at the bar at a time. He left the Roscoe saloon at eleven o'clock in company with a friend, going out a side door and up the post office alley to Franklin Street. There he and his companion parted, and he went on up Dodge Street toward home. Denser said he could not tell how his assailant was dressed, but was sure he was a white man and did not wear a mustache. He knew the defendant by sight only.

G. C. Olson, sworn as a witness, testified that the watch identified by Denser as his own was worth about $4. The case was gold filled but nearly worn out.

The testimony of Frank Clark, and Frank Walters, was practically the same as that given at the preliminary examination. Waggoner had told Clark he had a watch to sell and he had said in reply that the porter wanted one, whereupon Waggoner left the watch with him to be sold. It had been left in plain sight on the back bar. Walters identified the watch as the one he had received, as did also Patrolman John Brown and Chief of Police Appleby.

Most of the morning was taken up with the securing of veniremen, the drawing of an panel, and the swearing and examining of the jurors. Thomas Knudsen, Howard R. Green, L. J. Hinds, R. Erler, A. W. Hall, J. W. Van Reymun, Asa Anderson, A. C. Proctor, Lyman Morse, Charles P. Egan and Paul Colvin. Most of the veniremen acknowledge an acquaintance with the defendant or his family, but only two, among those dismissed, confessed to bias.

District Attorney Dunwiddie introduced the case to the jury, recounting in brief the complainant's story of his alleged robbery by the defendant with attending circumstances, and Charles Pierce, the attorney for the defendant, explained to the jury the nature of the evidence that would be introduced in an attempt to establish the innocence of Waggoner. He promised to prove an alibi for Waggoner, showing that he was in another place at the time the alleged robbery by him was committed, and that the watch that came into his possession was sold him by a stranger.

Robert Denser, the complaining witness, was the first to be called to the stand, and the questions of District Attorney Dunwiddie brought out his story of the affair. This was substantially the same as that given at the preliminary examination last Friday, though told more explicitly. He stated that he had $8.20 in his pocket when he went to Roscoe's saloon early on the evening of the seventeenth, and that he did not second more than $1.25 or $1.35 there. He stated positively that the watch recovered by the police was the one that had been stolen from him. The voice and height of Waggoner correspond with those of his assailant.

WOMAN AUTO DRIVER SUBJECTED TO FINE

Mrs. Arthur Campbell Pleads Guilty To Operating Machine At Speed Over Fifteen Miles.

Complaint of fast driving by Mrs. Campbell had been made to the police on previous occasions, but no one was willing to come into court and testify against her. Still Believe in Witches.

There is a certain walnut tree near Benevento, in Italy, around which the witches are said to gather on certain nights; and many a peasant of the Campagna believes that the witches assemble on midsummer nights amid the ruins of the Roman Forum, where they turn themselves into huge black cats. As one proceeds east the superstitions of the ignorant thicken and multiply. India is full of supernatural traditions and fantasies.

Have You Any Money Put Aside For the Future?

Aren't You At All Afraid of Old Age Creeping On You and Finding You in Want?

The wage earner, more than anyone else, should cultivate the habit of saving a portion of his wage and own a bank account. There is no telling when a lack of work or sickness may cut off all sources of income and place your family in hard circumstances.

This bank, although opened but two days, is already patronized by the laboring man and the mechanic, by the business man and merchant; In fact it is patronized by all classes. YOU ought to start an account here and now.

IT IS EASY TO START A BANK ACCOUNT

Will do the trick. Then watch your dollars grow. Seeds never grow until planted. Dollars do not increase unless they are set to work earning interest. If you want to start your fortune growing you must set your dollars to work earning interest by depositing them here. Your money can be obtained from the bank any time that you may need it. Money deposited on a savings account should always be looked upon as put away for the future and the successful saver will not touch his savings except for some really pressing need. However, one of the objects of a savings account is to provide for emergencies and it is practically subject to instant call at any time.

3 PER CENT INTEREST PAYABLE JANUARY FIRST

We will pay three per cent interest January first on any account that has been on deposit in the bank one or more months at that time. Money deposited here on or before September 10th, will draw interest from the first.

If you are unfamiliar with banking you can depend upon the soundness of the advice which will be given you by the officers of this company. Any particular point on which you may not be clear will be gladly explained to you.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

"ABIDE WITH ME."

Abide with me. Fast falls the eve tide.

The darkness deepens. Lord, with me abide.

When other helpers fail and comforts flee,

Help of the helpless, oh, abide with me!

On the white operating table of a Chicago hospital a girl was dying.

Clara Butler, soprano of a suburban church, by accident had been thrown under the wheels of a train and was hurried to the hospital in hope of saving her life by an operation.

In vain!

Knowing that death was fast closing down on her life, she whispered a message to her friends, who were in an adjoining room, and said, with a smile, "Tell them I am not afraid to die."

Then she began to sing.

Pure and clear at first rang the tones of the old hymn of faith and trust. The glorious voice that had often wafted the souls of devout worshippers floated through the operating room:

The darkness deepens. Lord, with me abide.

The surgeons and nurses turned away to the windows. Their eyes were wet. The singer's soul, winged for its flight, was in the voice. Soon it faltered, and as the darkness deepened and the waters closed over her it died away in the whisper:

Help of the helpless, oh, abide with me!

The singer was dead. She had sung her own requiem.

You do not believe as the girl believed? What would you give if you could do so?

Superstition? Self deception?

Well, the girl was brave. Do not you wish you could hug such a superstition to your heart? Ah, could you but experience such a divine self deception!

It works, or, to put it in your scientific speech, it is pragmatic. Something, from somewhere, stifled the awful agony.

Disbeliever, agnostic or what not, are you not glad the poor girl got her glorious strength as the life ebbed from her mangled body? Surely.

You would no more take away that girl's hope than you would knock from beneath him the crutches of a poor cripple.

Help of the helpless!

Are you quite prepared to say that the girl's prayer was unanswered?

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

THE TIE THAT BINDS.

IF YOUR only hold on some thing you loved very, very much were a slender chain, and if you were afraid the chain was getting too weak to hold, and if you knew that you would lose this precious thing altogether if the chain broke, would you give the chain a tremendously hard yank to see if that would break it?

Or would you try to find some way of strengthening the chain? That sounds as if the answer were obvious, doesn't it? And yet, listen to this question from a letter friend:

"It seems to me that my husband does not care for me as much as he used to," she writes, "and that he is growing altogether too fond of a young woman whom we both know. My heart is breaking, for I love my husband devotedly, and I do not know what to do. Do you think I should talk him with paying too much attention to this woman and threaten to leave him if he doesn't promise not to have anything more to do with her?"

In other words, do I think she should give the tie that binds this man to her a tremendously hard yank to see if it would break? No, Madame, I don't. For this reason, if you did that and the tie didn't break—as it probably wouldn't—your mind would be easier, but in all probability the tie would be weaker. For even the strongest tie is weakened by such treatment, and whether your husband cares for the girl or not, that is likely to irritate and estrange him.

There are two or three things which you can do, according to your strength. The best and hardest is to try to strengthen the tie in every way you know how, and then, if you still must, make some snare test of its strength.

But if the torture you are suffering is too keen for you to take such slow measures, the second best thing to do is to have a friendly talk with your husband. In all probability the torture chamber which you have built up for yourself has its foundation merely on a few thoughtless words or acts of your husband, and is constructed out of your own imaginations. Doubtless it is so unsubstantial that a few words from him will blow it to smithereens. And if you approach him in the right way and appeal to his tenderness, he will probably say those few words with eagerness and sincerity. But not if you threaten and antagonize him, and show yourself to him in all the ugliness of an attack of jealousy.

Sometimes, you know, an atmosphere of constant jealousy and suspicion will produce the very thing it fears.

By the way, if you want help in convincing yourself of the groundlessness of your suspicions, suppose you read the greatest thing that was ever written on this subject.

In other words, glance over your Othello. It may really help you to realize how foolish you probably are.

(3) My intended calls on me only once a week—on Sunday. Is that often enough? (4) Should he attend dances without me?—CONSTANT READER.

DEFORMITIES.

As stated before in these articles, deformities in the child which might have been corrected but were not, are many times the source of failure in the adult, either through self-consciousness or physical inability.

The cause of deformities is divided into two headings: Congenital, or those which exist at birth, and the acquired, or those which develop after birth. The latter cases constitute, by far the larger number of cases, and are the result of injury, fault attitudes, Constitutional disease, and arrested or improper development.

The causes of Congenital deformities are obscure. The different theories which have been advanced to account for deformity include the theory of heredity, the theory of intrauterine pressure, the theory of arrested or defective development, and material impressions.

The effects of heredity upon the production of certain deformities has long been recognized by both the profession and the laity.

The writer is acquainted with a family in which deafness and some form of deformity of the feet has appeared for three generations.

Consanguineous marriages, which were supposed to be productive of deformities generally, were common in this family.

Material impressions. Here is a subject on which one can get all kinds of argument.

We are all familiar with the old wife or the grandmother who can cite numerous cases of deformities which she declares were due to material impressions. Here is what Dr. James K. Young says in reference to material impressions: "In exceptional instances the deformities resemble some object which through shock or fright has made an impression upon the mother, but usually can be accounted for in some other way."

"In general the effects of material impressions is so slight that it may be discarded."

It may be truthfully said at the present time that many of the most severe deformities can be cured with less difficulties or afflictions which are at all comparable in the amount of mental or body suffering involved.

The chances of a cure depend greatly upon the time when treatment is undertaken. Parents should bring the deformities of their children to the attention of a competent surgeon early, that is, as soon as they are discovered, and leave the matter of time for having them corrected entirely to his judgment.

The instances of spontaneous cures are exceedingly rare; in fact they are so rare that they need not be considered. In other words, children do not out-grow deformities of any consequence.

An instance or two may be mentioned here to illustrate the thoughtlessness of some parents in regard to deformities in their children. A little daughter of a wealthy man had a crooked palate. He was repeatedly advised of the consequences, and that she should be operated on while she was young. His reply was: "Oh, she will out-grow it."

A little boy, when three years old suffered an injury to the spine. The parents were advised that proper treatment should be instituted at once. They believed that he soon would out-grow it. He is growing up a cripple.

It has been suggested in cases of deformities where the parents are too poor, or for other reasons, neglecting treatment, that the state should do it, for many of them later become a charge upon the state.

you go in the morning and come back at night and the party stays together, I see no harm. Of course, it's always best to have a chaperone along. (3) Perhaps that's the only time he has. (4) I shouldn't think he would want to, especially if he knows that you like to dance.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) If part of the spine is cut off about half an inch from the lower end, can that cripple a person or can they be cured? (2) How does a fellow show that he loves a girl? (3) How can you make a fellow care for you?—BLACK EYES.

(1) Ask a doctor. (2) By his eagerness to be in her company and to make life happy for her. (3) You can't unless he's willing. Be sweet and wholesome and modest and interesting, and you ought to attract a worthwhile man.

Dear Mrs. Thompson:—(1) Am I old enough to have a fellow come to the house? I am nearly eighteen. My mother doesn't allow me. Where would it be best to meet him? (2) Is it proper for a girl to let a fellow kiss her? (3) What will reduce the bust and build up the arms, but not the rest of the body?—BRIGHT.

(1) There would be no harm to have a young man or so visit you at your home, provided they don't do any love-making. You are a bit too young for a beau just now, my dear. A girl who wishes to be a good woman and never be ashamed of anything she has done, NEVER meets, a young man outside of her home. (2) Not unless she is engaged to him. (3) You cannot safely reduce the bust without becoming thinner in your whole body. Bat less and exercise more. Massage the arms with cocoa butter and do a little housework to give them a better shape.

Dear Mrs. Thompson—I have a white felt hat. How can I clean it?

The KITCHEN CABINET

ALWAYS thought cold victuals were better than frozen heat and welcome frost.

FROZEN DISHES.

Ice creams are divided into two classes, the Neapolitan and the Philadelphia. The former contains a large proportion of eggs, is made like a custard. The latter is creamy, being made of cream almost wholly.

In preparing the Neapolitan cream, care should be taken to strain the custard after adding the eggs well beaten. The cooking is another important matter, as too long cooking curdles the custard and too little leaves a raw, uncooked taste.

In adding fruit, such as berries or peaches, care should be taken that they are thoroughly mashed and sweetened before adding to the frozen mixture. Always chill the cream before freezing, as it freezes smoother and quicker.

The following recipes are not commonly seen, though they are not at all hard to prepare:

Burnt Almond Ice Cream.—Blanch four ounces of shelled almonds and brown them in the oven. Pound to a paste in a mortar, adding a little sugar and cream to make a paste. Beat six eggs, add the almond mixture, a pound of sugar and a quart of cream, with a teaspoonful of vanilla. Scald the eggs with half of the cream.

Maple Perfect.—Cook four well beaten eggs in a cup of hot maple syrup, add a teaspoonful of vanilla, a pint of thick cream and freeze.

Orange Ice.—Make a sirup of a pint of sugar and a quart of water, boil 15 minutes, add a pint of orange juice and a half cup of lemon juice, the peel of a lemon and orange. The peel can be boiled with the sugar. Cool and freeze.

Orange Delicious.—A cup each of orange and lemon juice, a cup and a half of sugar or sufficient to sweeten a pint of cream. Freeze.

"HAIR THAT GIVES FATHER TIME THE LAUGH"

We're just about as old as we LOOK.

People judge us, by the way we LOOK. The man or woman with grey hair is beginning to get the "Old Timer's Clout."

This Twentieth Century does NOT want GREY hairs—it wants the energy of Youth. The big things are being done by the YOUNGER generation.

There's a sort of "Has Been" look about those "Grey Hairs." There's always one to criticize and smile scornfully.

Father Time is a stern disciplinarian. Get the best of him. Give him the laugh. Do not be a "Has Been." It's unnecessary. Use HAY'S HAIR HEALTH.

Dolly Decides to Diet.

DOLLY was reading a Beauty Book which she had discovered at a neighbor's and borrowed.

"I certainly am getting fat," she said at last to John.

"Fat?" replied John, rousing from the pages of his magazine. "You're not fat! What put such an idea in your head?"

"Yes, my waist is larger than it used to be, and my hips too. I can feel the difference. I believe I'll diet."

"Let's see," she went on, reading aloud from the book, "I mustn't eat bread, only gluten—whatever that is—nor cereals, butter, coffee, milk, vegetables with starch in—I wonder which they are—sugar, sweet desserts, cake or anything of that sort. Goodness, seems to me a person would starve."

"You'll ruin your health," said John emphatically.

"Oh, no," responded Dolly blithely. "The papers are full of scientists saying we all eat too much. Let me see, what can I have for breakfast according to this schedule. Not much, I guess, but grapes and some of that gluten stuff." She looked rueful for a few minutes. "But I think I'll try it, for a week any way. It's awful to have big hips and a big waist."

The next morning she came into the dining-room from the kitchen, bringing with her a few pieces of toast.

"You mustn't want any of my toast," she said tantalizingly to John.

"I'm going to diet, you know."

"I thought you couldn't eat bread."

"I didn't have any of that gluten bread, so I thought I'd toast just ordinary bread."

"But that doesn't make it gluten," objected John.

"No-no. But it does change it some way. And I simply have to eat something."

She nibbled a bit of the toast. Then she looked longingly at the creamed dried beef. "Just put a little of that gravy on the toast, won't you dear, it is so awfully dry?"

"But this gravy has milk in it."

"I know. But a little won't hurt."

In a few minutes she made an exclamation, "Oh, I forgot and buttered my toast. I oughtn't to eat butter. Still I'm not going to throw this away. I don't believe in wasting things."

After a few minutes she said, "I wonder if coffee would hurt me if I didn't put any cream in it?"

She poured herself out a cup. "It's horrid without cream," she said, adding the sugar and cream. "Those potatoes look awfully good. Honestly, I'll starve on grapes and toast. Why I'll ruin my health on such a diet."

"Every bit as well," asserted John. "I don't approve of people's not eating. If you don't eat you can't work. Have a hot roll."

"I will," said Dolly. "It is ever so much nicer than this measly toast."

HOUSEHOLD TALKS

knowledge of soil, water, drainage, rotation of crops, irrigation and fertilization that might make a farmer of forty years' experience envious.

The girls expect to have their cooked produce exhibited in competition with that entered by skilled housekeepers. The prizes are bank books with substantial deposits in them and it is a safe guess that the young folks will capture the lion's share. These two recipes, taken from random from two of the notebooks, show that the simplest things are made useful:

"Nasturtium seeds pickled. Wash the green seeds and soak over night in salt water. Pack in pretty bottles and cover them with scalding vinegar. Seal and let stand a month before using. Vinegar should never be boiled, only scalded."—Clara Trivisono, Murray Hill school.

"Original salad. Tomatoes sliced thin and made cold. Sprinkle with celery leaves, minced fine, and serve with salad dressing."—Hermine Horky, Rice school.

This salad will be an eye-opener for anyone who has not tried the delicate combination.

BACKACHE NOT A DISEASE

But a Symptom, a Danger Signal Which Every Woman Should Heed.

Backache is a symptom of organic weakness or derangement. If you have backache don't neglect it. To get permanent relief you must reach the root of the trouble. Read about Mrs. Woodall's experience.

Morton's Gap, Kentucky.—"I suffered two years with female disorders, my health was very bad and I had a continual backache which was simply awful. I could not stand on my feet long enough to cook a meal's victuals without my back nearly killing me, and I would have such dragging sensations I could hardly bear it. I had soreness in each side, could not stand tight clothing, and was irregular. I was completely run down. On advice I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and am enjoying good health. It is now more than two years and I have not had an ache or pain since. I do all my own work, washing and everything, and never have backache any more. I think your medicine is grand and I praise it to all my neighbors. If you think my testimony will help others you may publish it."—Mrs. OLLIE WOODALL, Morton's Gap, Kentucky.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

HOW TO SUCCEED

During the last few years, conditions in all lines of business, even professional life, have changed so completely that every man is waking up to the fact that in order to win success he must specialize and learn to do some one thing and do it well. So it is with any article that is sold to the people. It must have genuine merit or no amount of advertising will maintain the demand for the article.

For many years we have watched with much interest the remarkable record maintained by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy. From the very beginning the proprietors had so much confidence in it that they invited every one to test it free of cost, before purchasing.

It is a physician's prescription. They have on file thousands of letters received from former sufferers who are now enjoying good health as a result of its use.

However, if you wish first to try a sample bottle, address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and mention this paper. They will gladly forward you a sample bottle by mail, absolutely free.

Regular sizes for sale at all drug stores—fifty-cent and one-dollar.

WRITES OF QUIANT CUSTOMS OBSERVED IN VERMONT TOWNS

Janesville Woman Notes Survival of Quiet Habits and Contentment in Green Mountain State.

The beauties of Green Mountain scenery, the quiet manners and quaint customs of the last generation, and a general substantial prosperity that appears undisturbed by the prevalent high cost of living is noted in the following letter from a Janesville woman who has been spending her summer in the state of Vermont, and it is well worth the reading to note that New England still preserves here and there neighborhoods that have not lost their characteristic stamp.

For a sure cure from insomnia or nervous troubles of whatever nature, in one of these Vermont villages. The beautiful scenery on all sides, bracing mountain air, the peaceful quiet, atmosphere. To eat of the thrifty, frugal wife's cooking—good baked beans, brown bread, succotash, chicken pie, fritters, with maple sugar, (real thing), and other food for which these housekeepers have always been famous. Here among the mountains the old conditions still exist and these housekeepers are the same housekeepers as their mothers. They have not yet "broadened" out so that a cent's worth of beefs left over, peas, I would suggest a two months' stay etc., are fixed up with ten cents' worth of salad dressing to save them and eke out the following meal. When seated at one of these tables you never have "I wonder if there is enough to go around" feeling. "Find plenty of good, palatable, wholesome food served in the same old-fashioned way we remembered so fondly in our childhood days, fifty years ago. You never hear these women whistling Alexander's Rag Time Band, or singing the light songs of the day, but you do hear them when about their work, singing "Rock of Ages," "Will There Be Any Stars in My Crown?" with all the serious thoughts of life, thankful for their blessings, and cheerfully doing their duty. Many of the sons of these same mothers have gone from these hills and become famous in making our nation's history.

Vermont was not one of the thirteen colonies; it had a struggle with New Hampshire on one side and New York on the other and maintained a government of its own, but came into the Union in 1791. The roads are state roads and very good throughout the state, much better than are ours. Between Derby and Derby Line are six miles of the best roads in the state. Autos brought into the state are taxed the first year, $1.00 per one horse power; second years 75c; and then 50c, and so on. There was last year about ($70,000) seventy thousand dollars collected which was applied to the road tax.

Prosperous farms and comfortable homes, large barns, (more frequent than in our portion of Wisconsin) are everywhere predominant. One of the most beautiful spots in New England is Wellmouth Lake. From the south the approach is through woods for some miles. Reaching the trees one suddenly catches a glimpse of two high cliffs facing each other. Soon from the top of the hill the first view of the lake, nestling between these two gigantic sentinels, is obtained far up beyond. These rocky cliffs and the lake seem to wind among the mountains. Rich fertile farms sometimes approach to the waters edge. First and birch cover the mountain sides. It is claimed Wellmouth Lake occupies the same prominence as Lake Lucern. At Beebe there is a double building—one side on the United States, the other on Canada. This building is occupied as a post-office, both windows face the same counter, not ten feet apart, yet should you wish to send a letter to Bube, P. I., it is an actual fact that that letter would have to travel thirty-three miles by train before it would reach those in the next room, and on one side to Wells River and back. Between Richmond and Janesville there is a church which we are told is the only one of its type of architecture left. At first sight it looks like one of the old time round houses. The date is 1815 on the weather-vane.

While out for a walk I met an old one-time minister. He engaged in conversation. Now is a good time thought I to air my theological knowledge, so I spoke in a very familiar way of Wesley and John Calvin. The old minister looked puzzled for a moment, trying to recall his acquaintances and then said, "I don't remember them and I can't think if I ever met or knew them."

You see fine horses here. I have only seen one, that was a very poor specimen driven by a good, conscientious, Baptist deacon. He has labored hard to turn sinners from the errors of their way. This same deacon has also toiled in the vineyard of matrimony, having buried five wives as tombstones just alike testify. He formerly ran a granite quarry, got these tombstones cut, cheap, and showed no favor. When he married the last time, his daughter remarked, "Well, father has got a wife now that has come to stay," but she took the habit and she too died. With partial catactra they say he is still susceptible to woman's charms. He knows a good looking woman when he sees one. He is also powerful in prayer.

It would be interesting to tell of the people and customs of this part of the country, of the prominent men that yearly return to their native place. Leaving Vermont in its dearest of associations and recollections, the pool's lines came to my mind, "Of all the scenes by boyhood new, Loved, beautiful and grand, Is cradled in thy hills and vales, My own green mountain land."

PEOPLE CAREFUL TO OBSERVE THE RULES

But Few Cards Bearing Tinsel And Similar Materials Sent Through Local Postoffice Unenclosed.

Since the ban was placed by the postoffice department on postal cards bearing tinsel, sand glass and other materials, Janesville people have been very careful of its observance, and it is only occasionally that such cards are taken from the mails and sent to the dead letter office at Washington. On August 1, 1907, an order was issued by the postoffice department that "Postal cards bearing glass, metal, mica, sand, tinsel or other similar substances are unmailable except when enclosed in envelopes tightly sealed, to prevent the escape of particles of the objectionable substances and injuring persons handling the mail." Wide publicity was given the order and in Janesville, there have been but few violations of it, although in other cities, it has been necessary to throw out a large number of the cards not enclosed in an envelope. The general practice, however, in sending such mail, is to enclose the cards in a transparent envelope.

The total number of postal cards sent to the dead letter office at Washington from the Janesville postoffice is never in excess of from twenty to twenty-five weekly, a small number considering the facts that hundreds of them are handled here daily. Most of those that are declared "dead" are sent to Washington because the address given is insufficient or because the cards are of the objectionable variety, with obscene pictures or writing.

Proof of Common Origin.

Professor Keith in a London lecture on the evolution of man, said that the resemblance of the prehistoric monkeys found in the Fayum in upper Egypt to South American monkeys indicated the common origin of the anthropoids of the old and new world.

Awkward.

We don't care how graceful the woman may be, we insist that she becomes the limit of awkwardness when she attempts to sharpen a lead pencil.

SIDEWALK KETCHES.

BARNSTORMING.

(By Howard L. Rann.)

BARNSTORMING is a polite term which is used to describe what the people of the rural precincts have to put up with in the way of stage realism.

The barnstormer is an unfettered amateur who draws whatever salary is left after paying the car fare to the next town and who wails comes any kind of applause, from fresh eggs to early vegetables.

Most of our barnstormers leap from the farm to the title role in "St. Elmo" with so much success that they are often confused for the real article.

They have a very complex and exhausting life, as they are obliged to get up at noon, and carefully for the parade, learn which side of the stage to come in on, and strangle the English language throughout the evening performance.

There is quite a little acting concealed on the barnstorming circuit. Some of it is concealed so successfully that the audiences reembrace by decorating the drop curtain with floral tributes in the form of cabbage and pink carrots.

Every barnstormer expects some day to make Robert Mantell look like the end man in a home talent contest. To that end, he memorizes Marc Anthony's oration between meals and cultivates a stage stride which is a cross between the still-walking crane and a cripple with a club foot.

In some localities which never have a chance to see the drama, except when somebody in a touring car runs over a setting hen, the barnstormer is welcomed as a change from pitching quilts and beeping on the cost of a funeral outfit. The recent slump in stage values has caused barnstormers to become so common in our smaller towns that they can go around in English walking coats and white spots without being shadowed by the night watch.

Not all the barnstorming is done in the country. A pretty fair imitation can occasionally be found in theatres which set a man back $4 for the family circle. This tends to prove that true merit often goes unrecognized, while a fine quality of nature-proof nerve gets the coin.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Gazette, Sept. 5, 1892.—
Burglary.—On Monday night, during the absence of Dr. Gish and his family, his residence on South First street, was entered by burglars and ransacked from cellar to garret. Trunks, closets and bureaus were overhauled and their contents strewn about the floors of the rooms. The operators evidently took their time in their search for valuables. A few articles of jewelry, and a little change was secured amounting to less than twenty dollars.
Teachers' Institute.—The board of education has extended an invitation to the county superintendents to hold their coming teachers institute in this city. The institute takes place about the last of the present month.

UNCLE WALT

The Poet Philosopher
Copyright, 1909, by George Matthew Adams
BY WALT MASON

Day after day the sun rode high,
all brazen in a brazen sky, and all the weary sons of men stood round and kicked, and kicked again. The farmers, coming into town, said all the crops were withering down. Oh, we had trouble in our hearts; we hung around the changing marts discussing politics all day. "Old things," we said, "must pass away; old grafts no longer can us fool; they'll have to let the Peepul rule. Our woes all come from Politics, from ringsters' guile and statesmen's tricks, and we shall put that crowd in chains and let the Peepul hold the reins." And then one day the rainclouds came, obscuring all the spangled frame, the torrent pouted,

"Hey, Bill, fly over to the hardware store and get a file, then we'll cut the bars and get the job!"

Hardly a Benefit to the Race.
A young New England student has succeeded in developing live caterpillars by means of sulphuric acid. The scientists are excited over the feat, but the country at large will not be wildly enthusiastic over the prospect of being able to multiply caterpillars at will, and may even be clamoring for laws to prevent ambitious young scientists from increasing by scientific means flies, mosquitoes and kindred nuisances to the human race.

Beauty of the Drama.
I think I love and reverence all arts equally, only putting my own just above the others; because in it I recognize the union and culmination of my own. To me it seems as if when God conceived the world, that was poetry; he formed it, and that was painting; he colored it, and that was sculpture; he peopled it with living beings; and that was the grand, divine, eternal drama.—Charlotte Cushman.
